

Yes i am in favor of making a-la-carte channels there are some programs that we are just not interested in and really have no need to pay for such if we dont watch them I know it is or was available to do that on C band but on dishnetwork and direct tv it is not and it should be.